

Returned.

John Charles Gardiner, whose name a few years since flourished so extensively in the newspapers in connection with the Gardiner trial in this city, was here again last week, for the first time since he escaped, and forfeited his bail; being then under indictment, as will be remembered. A month or so ago the government managed to obtain the principal of the ill-gotten money, which was lying to his credit in sundry banking houses, by permitting him, as administrator of his brother's estate, to draw the interest that had accumulated upon it, and entering a sedes pro in the criminal suit depending over his head. During his absence, he had been keeping a hotel in Cuba.—Wash. Star.

Washington Items.

The President has appointed Peter Force and George Parker as two of the Inspectors of the United States Penitentiary in the District of Columbia.

Mr. Rush Floyd, of Virginia, who has arrived in Washington, reports the health of his brother, Secretary Floyd, as being considerably improved.

The Presbytery of the District of Columbia met in the Western Presbyterian Church on the 22d of July, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, for the purpose of taking measures to regularly install the Rev. A. L. Bartlett, of South Carolina, as pastor of the congregation.—Wash. Star of yesterday.

COMMENCEMENT OF WESLEYAN FEMALE INSTITUTE, STANTON, VA.—The annual commencement exercises of this flourishing institution came off the last week, in the presence of a large number of its friends. It was gratifying to the excellent Principal and his co-laborers to see such a large number of strangers present, especially such a large delegation of Ministers, representing parts of Maryland and a large extent of Virginia Territory. This unusual attendance and accompanying enthusiasm was properly construed as a harbinger of good to the institution, and will give a new impulse to ministerial effort in its behalf, and a fresh incentive to the indomitable Principal whose untiring energy has made the last year, the most successful financial period in its history, its number of pupils 72, the largest number that has ever attended, except one year, and its standard of scholarship second to that of no other Female School in the State. The incipient exercise pertaining to this commencement was a baccalaureate sermon by Rev. J. A. McCauley, of Fredericksburg, preached on Sunday, June 25, before a very large and highly appreciative assembly. It was based upon John, Chap. iv, verse 27th. "And upon this came his disciples and marvelled that he talked with the woman." The space allotted to this communication forbids a critical review of this eloquent and beautiful sermon, yet to express the general sentiment of an intelligent audience, I must say that his theme, "Christianity and Woman" was treated in a masterly style and abounded in numerous and sparkling gems of thought, and glowing strains of genuine and impassioned eloquence. He closed with a fervid appeal in behalf of female education, and in feeling terms to his friends connected with the Institute, and spoke with moving pathos as he referred to some of the bright flowers cultivated in this nursery of piety and learning, who now transplanted in a celestial world will ever bloom and blossom in immortal brightness.

On Monday the examination commenced under the supervision of the examining committee consisting of Rev. O. P. Wigman, J. N. Davis, and J. W. Wolf. It was conducted with great fairness, no special parts having been selected with a view to display; indeed the common sentiment of the committee and spectators was that it was entirely too rigid, and that it had reflected credit upon the young ladies who got along with surprising facility, evincing a thorough mode of instruction, which drilled them in studying principles rather than skimming over, and "cranking" a few leading points. The young ladies excelled in the very department where we ordinarily expect more or less failures: the department of Mathematics. Having attended the examinations and commencements of several literary institutions, I must do the young ladies, and their principal, the justice to say that I never saw so good an examination in Geometry and Conic Sections, as I never saw any class of pupils acquire them with more facility and credit. In the varied departments all the classes did well and to particularize, might seem to indicate undue partiality yet I must speak in terms of the highest commendation of the graduating class, and two talented sisters who figured very conspicuously and with great honor to themselves in their respective classes. The examination closed on Wednesday, and that evening at 8 o'clock the young ladies and their friends repaired to the Baptist Church, where they were entertained by a Literary Address, delivered by Rev. B. F. Brooke, D. D., of Baltimore.

The regular commencement exercises closed on Thursday evening before an overflowing and intelligent auditory. The department of music had a good representation, who did themselves and their indefatigable instructor, Prof. Turner, great credit, and who enlightened the occasion by interesting the exercises with delightful and thrilling strains of vocal and instrumental music. The programme for Thursday evening was made up of English and Latin. A literary reading of essays, dialogues, conferring degrees and valedictory. The English Salutatory was read by Miss Annanah Williams, of Kingsport, Va., the "Salutatory in Latin" by Miss Mattie E. Arbogast, of Lexington, Mo., and Valedictory by Miss Lizzie Rust, of Loudoun Co., Va. These young ladies received the degrees. The first honor being awarded to Miss Mattie E. Arbogast for excellence in Latin and French and the other graduates sharing equally in honor. This graduating trio leave the institution wreathed in rosy chaplets wrought by diligence and laudable emulation, and if their future career be estimated by their collegiate standing, they will ever reflect a bright halo to finger around and bless the portals of their Alma Mater. The various pieces of original composition evinced a high degree of belles lettres cultivation, and the dialogues were well conceived and readily expressed. The only criticism to be made upon this part of the exercises was the want of vocal power in most of the young ladies. Very often it was difficult to hear in remote parts of the room; this applies to all schools, and arises, doubtless, from fright conjoined with natural diffidence. In this respect, Miss Nellie Veitch is a good model, and we trust her manner will be imitated the next commencement.

In conclusion—this institution occupies at present a more permanent basis than ever, is more successful than ever, and its friends with renewed hope, and will excite all to renewed effort. It especially commends itself to the Ministers whose institution it is, and to whose fostering care it looks for continued support with the same solicitude and filial confidence that marks the child-like trust daily exemplified around the altars and hearthstones of their own household.—Staunton Indicator.

Snow on the White Mountains.

There is no snow on the cone of Mt. Washington. A large patch, some rods square, is visible from the Glen, near the top of Mr. Jefferson, and some white stripes are to be seen in the gorges of the Gulf of Mexico. Between Washington and Glen. But Mr. Gordon, of Gorham, the faithful and admirable guide, tells me he went a day or two over the summits of Madison, Adams, Jefferson, Clay, and Washington, and down through Tuckerman's Ravine, with two young men, and in the ravine where the snow-drifts, he found more snow than he has ever seen there in the Summer. The snow is not yet worn out enough to form an arch. By the first of August it will be channelled sufficiently to repay visitors treble for the labor of descending to it from the summit.—Boston Transcript.

MORE OF LAND, THE ESCAPED MURDERER.—The Norfolk Day Book of Saturday evening says:—There are very many reports in circulation respecting his whereabouts: some say that he is secreted in Portsmouth; others say, that on the evening of his escape, he went to his dwelling, procured his gun, the same murderous weapon with which he is said to have killed Flanagan, and took to an adjacent swamp where he is now secreted, with a firm determination to die rather than be taken; another report, and one that reaches us from an credible source, says that he was seen in Eastville the morning after his escape, having crossed the mouth of Chesapeake Bay during the night.

If this report is true, and we have no right to doubt it, it produces upon the mind the impression that there might have been some collusion, and this impression is based upon the hypothesis that a sail boat or vessel was in waiting to take him off in a direction where he was least likely to be known, and where there were no telegraphs, and but imperfect mail arrangements. He has already made some experience in travelling from justice, and knows the use and potency of the telegraph in arresting fugitives; and it is not likely that he will again place himself under a wire which has already betrayed him. Our impression is that Land's schemes for escape were deep laid, well arranged, and perfected with much care; how much the sequel will prove, but we shall not believe he is caught until we see him in custody.

SINGULAR LAW SUIT.—Under the head of Law Reports, the New York Times publishes the particulars of a singular law suit brought by a young lady to compel her guardian to disclose to her the names of her parents, and her story, it appears that she has been brought up by a gentleman of wealth and respectability, under the impression that she was entitled to some property; but now, she being of age, he has notified her that she must provide for herself, and refuses to give her any information as to her parentage, and denies that she has any property.

The Pension Office has received intelligence of the death of three of the revolutionary pensioners in the State of Connecticut, who have died during the six months ending June 30, 1859.

It is said that all the French newspaper correspondents in the French army in Italy have received "leave of absence," and left for home.

BY YESTERDAY EVENING'S MAIL.

DEED NEAR OLD POINT.—We learn that Messrs. Collier and Jones, two young men of Hampton, fought a duel near Old Point, yesterday morning, which resulted, we are happy to say, without injury to either party. The cause, we believe, was an attack made on Collier by Jones with a horse-whip, and Collier's posting Jones afterwards for refusing satisfaction. It is said that only one shot was exchanged, which resulting without harm to either party, the seconds interposed and the matter was adjusted.—Noctuid Herald.

"CAUGHT A TARTAR."—A correspondent from Media, Delaware County, Pa., writes us some strange incidents in the conduct of Game Fowls, at that place, kept in the game chieftain of Dr. J. W. Cooper, a gentleman who has recently published an interesting little work on Games. A few days ago, while a little boy was passing through the chieftain, he was attacked by a large game rooster of the noted Tartar breed, and so severely injured and killed, that he was nearly killed. Many and deep were the gashes inflicted on his tender flesh, and he was only saved by a servant attracted by his cries. Again, while a hen of the same stock was running through a field, a large hawk, that "fell destroyer" of all poultry, lit upon one of her young; the mother quickly darted on the hawk, and punished it so severely as to completely disable it. It was captured and is now preserved by the doctor with no little pride.—Rich. Eng.

IMPORTANT TRIAL.—The case of the Rev. Dr. Deems against the Rev. Wm. Carter, has been progressing in this place for the last two days. Other business has prevented our attendance, consequently we know but little about the matter. We shall endeavor to get the full particulars for our next issue. We have no idea when the trial will close. Dr. Deems appears as his own counsel, and the Rev. Mr. Archer, of the Virginia Conference, appears as counsel for the Rev. W. Carter.—Louisburg (N. C.) Eagle.

COMPLIMENT TO A VIRGINIA LADY.—We are gratified to learn from our exchanges that the degree of A. M. (Mistress of Arts) has been conferred upon the talented and beautiful authoress, Miss Martha Haines Butt, of Norfolk Va. The degree was conferred by the Harrisburg Female College. It is one of the first Seminars in the United States, and is under the supervision of Rev. B. R. Waugh, a gentleman of rare intellectual ability.

THE "LITTLE GIANT" IN TENNESSEE.—The Memphis Avalanche says:—"We do not believe there are fifty Democrats in West Tennessee guilty of the folly of desiring the nomination of Douglas by the Charleston Convention."

That may be true as to Tennessee, but it is not true as to Virginia—For Douglas Democrats are as plenty as blackberries in these parts.—Richmond Whig.

RUMORS.—Rumors are afloat to the effect that there will shortly be a meeting of prominent Democrats of Louisiana, Mississippi, Virginia, Alabama, Georgia, and South Carolina, to take counsel upon the condition of the party, and to discuss the expediency of letting the Charleston Convention go by default.—Athens, (Tenn.) Post.

REMOVAL OF A DEEL.—We were informed by a gentleman yesterday that all the preliminaries had been arranged for a duel between O. Jennings Wigg, esq., of the Engineer, and Patrick Henry Aylett, esq., of the Examiner. It is supposed that the offence was given in an article which appeared in the Enquirer on Friday last (7).—Richmond News.

WANTED IN NORFOLK.—We mean the establishment of an extensive wholesale dry goods house in our city. With a population of 20,000, two rail roads, three canal lines, and some half a dozen steam boat lines, we have no wholesale dry goods house.—Norfolk Argus.

His Honor Judge Thompson has allowed the several mandamns which were sued for in the Circuit Court by certain holders of Ohio county, Hampshire bonds, to compel the magistrates to assemble and make a levy for the payment of the interest due on the said bonds. The county has already refused to make the required levy, it is likely that the matter will be taken to the court of Appeals, where a supersederis may be granted to stay proceedings for the present.—Washington Intelligence.

Three "thimble riggers" from Richmond, who had just commenced the "game" in Petersburg, were arrested in the latter city on Monday.

LOCAL ITEMS.

MOUNT VERNON.—The repairs to the mansion at Mount Vernon were commenced on Monday last. The Carpenters' work to be done by Col. C. S. Price, and the Brick work by Mr. E. Stanton, both of this city. The improvements on the grounds will be soon begun.

CORX.—"Roasting ears" made their appearance in our market, for the first time this season, yesterday. They were grown across the River, and sold for 50 cents per dozen.

THE WEATHER has become very warm again, and yesterday, the heat, in the sun, was oppressive. The thermometer, in the shade, and in a fine draught of air, stood at two o'clock, at 87°.

CANNON FIRING.—The heavy firing in Washington, heard yesterday, was caused, we believe, by the experimental trial of cannon at the U. S. Arsenal.

All the Atlantic cities, so far, this summer, are in the enjoyment of excellent general health, and free from epidemic diseases. Alexandria, is uncommonly healthy. A case of ordinary sickness is very rare. Our worthy physicians have but little to do in their line of business.

We learn that that Orange and Alexandria Railroad have given an order to T. S. Jamieson, of this place, for the construction of a number of new freight cars, for the use of that road.

WASHINGTON ITEMS.—SUSPENSION OF SERVICES.—On Friday last, the whole of the corps of engineers, laborers, and others, employed on the Washington Aqueduct, with two or three exceptions only, were discharged, the appropriation for the work having run out.

Allen Fleetwood, alias Brooks, was indicted for stealing three heifers from W. H. Rowland, but the place where the stealing occurred proving to be in Prince George's county, Md., the traverser was acquitted, but held by the Marshal for a requisition from the Governor of Maryland.

CITY COUNCILS.—Yesterday afternoon in the Board of Aldermen, a joint resolution was passed for the payment of the semi-annual interest on the bonds of the Washington and Alexandria Railroad, the payment of which was guaranteed by the city. It amounted to $1,521. A bill passed the same Board regulating the sale of lime, and requiring all lime to be henceforth sold by weight, at the rate of two hundred and sixty pounds to the barrel.—Nat. Int.
